

"My Military Hero"

My military hero is my dad. He was in the Marine Corp. He was a machine gunner. He is a Desert storm veterian. He is caring, responsible, and strong. The military taught him to treat others nice, and keep people safe. I feel safe with him.

I was so proud of my dad, when he gave a lady on the street money. She had towels on her feet. A blanket on her shoulders. She looked homeless and cold. My dad pulled the car over, and gave her twenty dollars. I asked him, why he did that. He told me, because she needed help. Then he did something cute.

He looked at me
and saluted. I saluted my dad, as I always do.
