

My Military Hero!

My military hero is my dad. He is currently overseas fighting battles to keep his family, friends, and country safe. Soldiers go out there every day to protect us, not knowing what dangers they might face. Those are true heroes. My dad fights among these heroes of the world. Although, when he is not out there being a brave hero, he is here at home. When he is at home he is the best dad I could ever ask for. He is always writing in his journal so he can tell me about his times in Iraq. When he is home we can laugh, play, and talk together. He will always play with me and my friends. He will even connect with his inner child so we can do fun things together. He can time me while I practice for track, and I can help him barbeque. I love to barbeque with my dad; he is always teaching me how to cook. Even though some might think he is worn down because of his injuries. To me, that just makes him stronger and braver. I don't care what other people think of my dad, I say he is always a brave hero. There are many other heroes in the world. Many go unrecognized. This is a chance for me to recognize my dad. My dad is the perfect military hero because he is always there for his friends, family, country, and he is a hero at his job. Many people might not know my dad, but he is my military hero!
